thank you so much for all the help, i'm understanding more how i can get to the root of the problem and i'm going to take all of the advice you've given me pretty much anything that uses a roland tb-303-type sound in the same way it was used in acid house music is fair game for getting the acid tag.

Ritalin use is also associated with weight loss, giving some people an even greater reason to experiment with the drug.
